Dear Mr. Hackett:

Reference is made to your letter of 14 October 1974, which requested a synopsis of Bicentennial plans in the Central Intelligence Agency.

This is to advise that our Bicentennial program is in the preliminary stages of review, and no firm decision has been made as to the nature or extent of our participation. A small working group is studying this matter at the present time. As you surmised, there are significant constraints on funds and manpower, and it appears likely that any program we develop will be quite modest indeed.

It is regretted that we are not in a position to be more helpful in responding to your request.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Brownman:

The Louisiana ARBC is presently compiling information from all Federal agencies concerning their efforts in Bicentennial planning. If possible, we would appreciate a synopsis on the Bicentennial plans and programs in your department.

We realize that most agencies are operating under the understanding that if they are going to do anything for the Bicentennial, they will have to do it out of existing, rather than special appropriation accounts.

We appreciate your assistance in this matter and look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
